

MISS LOCKRIDGE WINS BONUS OFFER.

Much Interest is Being Shown By the Girls and the Contest Promises to Be One of the Warmest Ever Pulled Off in This Section.

There was more interest shown in the ADVOCATE'S Big Atlantic City contest last week than any previous week. The girls in districts No. 1 and 2 are working hard while there has not been much interest shown in No. 3. It would be dead easy for some popular girl to win this delightful trip in this district.

All of the girls were working hard last week for the 5,000 bonus offer for the largest amount of money turned in during the week. Miss Mary Lockridge won the bonus by a small majority over Miss Anna Mary Triplett. Both of these girls are working especially hard and deserve the support of every man in the community. Miss Florence McNamara did some excellent work last week in district No. 1 and made a splendid increase in her standing. This week there is a bonus offer in each district for new subscribers only. Be sure and read the offer carefully.

Every detail is being planned for the comfort of the winners of this delightful trip. Nothing is going to be left undone to insure the comfort and pleasure of the girls that are so fortunate as to be returned the winners.

SPECIAL BONUS OFFER

During this week we are going to give a bonus of 7,500 votes to the girl in each district who turns in the largest number of new subscribers. All subscriptions must be turned in not later than 5:30 p. m. Saturday. Under no circumstances will the names of the winners of this bonus be made known until they are printed in the Advocate Wednesday morning.

In honor of Miss Blevins.

Miss Hazel O'Rear gave a "Five Hundred" party Saturday morning for her visitor, Miss Mary Blevins, of Mt. Sterling, and the affair was one of the prettiest given during the week. The cool and spacious rooms of the "Glen Ayr," the country home of the O'Rears, decorated with summer flowers, made a beautiful interior, to which was added an array of beautifully gowned girls. At the conclusion of the game a luncheon was served, after which the guests lingered on the lawn unwilling to return to the city.

Those who enjoyed the O'Rear hospitality were: Misses Cheatham Rodman, Lawler Haff, Vivian Scott, Florence Gayle, Elizabeth Simpson, Nora Shackelford, Mabel Foster, Letitia Warren, Rachael Settle, Charlotte Martin, Virgilia Hoge, Katherine Logan, Louise Garrett, Belle Teal Martin, Ruth Hanley and Katherine Alexander. —Frankfort Cor. Lex. Herald.

Republican Convention.

It seems certain that the Republican convention which is now in session in Louisville will nominate Judge E. C. O'Rear, of this county, for Governor. It now looks as if he will be nominated on the first ballot. He received the unanimous instruction of this county. A large number of prominent Republicans from here are attending the convention.

Rural Carriers Will Get Higher Salaries.

The 40,000 rural free delivery carriers in the United States are to receive a salary increase as a result of a decision reached by Postmaster General Hitchcock. The order will provide for the disbursement during the current fiscal year of $4,000,000 which will mean an increase of $100 over the present salary of $900 for all carriers on standard routes with proportionate increases on the shorter routes.

Switchman Killed.

Efforts were made the early part of last week to locate relatives of Jas. Groves, a switchman for the C. & O. railroad, who was injured in the yards at Russell, Ky., and taken to a Huntington, W. Va., hospital, where he died. The young man said his name was Groves and that his parents resided at Mt. Sterling. After two days of fruitless searching his people were finally located near Springfield church in Bath county. The remains were brought here and taken to Fleming county, his old home for burial.

Main Street Residence Destroyed by Fire.

The residence of Mrs. Ella Priest on West Main Street was destroyed by fire early last Wednesday morning, together with almost all of the contents. The loss is about $2,500. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Flynn Wins Pony.

Ewing A. Flynn, bookkeeper for the McCormick Lumber Co., held the lucky number, 537, which number drew the pony at Punch & Graves' last Saturday. The win is a very popular one and nearly every one is congratulating Mr. Flynn on his good luck. The contest was one of the fairest ever pulled off in this city and it was a big success from start to finish. The immense crowd that gathered in front of the store Saturday evening at 4 o'clock, the hour set for the drawing, was sufficient evidence that the people were intensely interested in this novel advertising scheme. This was undoubtedly the biggest contest of its kind ever pulled off in Mt. Sterling, and this popular and progressive firm is receiving congratulations from all sides.

This contest should more thoroughly convince the merchants the value of advertising. There are many ways to advertise and its success depends altogether upon whether the advertiser uses modern and novel methods. Money judiciously spent in advertising doubles any business.

In Explanation.

Some weeks ago an editorial appeared in our paper stating that the Fourth of July celebration would be "absolutely free" and at the time this was published we were so advised by those having the matter in charge. However, finding that it would be impossible to raise enough money to pay the expenses the Business Men's Club turned the matter over to the Fair Company and they took the matter in charge, arranged the races, base ball game, motor races, fireworks, etc., and charged 25 cents admission.

It was not our idea to deceive anyone, but as several have mentioned this to us we make this explanation.

School Board Buys Property.

The local School Board has bought the residence property of M. H. Vice on Maysville street, adjoining the present public school for the sum of $4,250, possession to be given immediately. The lot has a frontage of 55 feet and runs the entire depth of the present school lot. The Board is having plans now prepared for the erection of a brick building very similar to the present one, which will be located 28 feet south of the present building, on a line with it and facing Maysville street. It is thought the two buildings will furnish ample accommodations for the educational needs of our city.

Store Moved.

Owing to the tremendous increase in their business The Rogers Co., Outfitters to Women, have been compelled to move from the Cockrell building to the McKee building.

Mr. J. Stockwell Samuels, who has been connected with J. D. Hazelrigg & Son for several years, has bought an interest in the business and will begin his new duties August 1.

A visit to this up-to-date store will convince you that this is one of the most complete stores of its kind in this section of the country.

Mayor Samuels to Remain in Office.

Last week at an adjourned meeting of the City Council, Mayor Samuels, who has been repeatedly urged to withdraw his resignation as Mayor tendered at the last meeting agreed to do so and will remain in office until his term expires. Mayor Samuels' decision will meet with popular favor as he is undoubtedly one of the most popular and efficient men who ever held the office.

JOHN C. WOOD

One of Our most Prominent and Highly Respected Citizens Passes to His Final Resting Place.

The death angel visited the home of John C. Wood last Thursday evening, July 6, 1911, at 5:45 o'clock, and departing, took his soul to that land where suffering and trouble are unknown.

Mr. Wood had been ill for four years, and almost helpless for two years, his illness resulting from a hemorrhage of the brain with which he was stricken in Louisville in 1908. Monday morning he was stricken with another hemorrhage while seated on the porch of his home on Holt avenue and gradually lapsed into unconsciousness from which he never rallied.

Mr. Wood was fifty years old. He was a son of United States Pension Agent A. T. Wood and leaves seven children. Mr. Wood held many prominent positions, having served as State Railroad Commissioner, as Postmaster and United States Commissioner. The funeral was held at the residence on Holt avenue Friday afternoon and the burial was in Machpelah cemetery.

John C. Wood was a man with a big heart, always ready and willing to go his full length for a friend. As an editor he made quite a reputation for himself, being recognized as one of the ablest and brainiest writers in the State. As a worker in the Republican party he was considered one of the hardest and most efficient party workers in the South. In all the positions he held during his short life he was never found wanting and never failed to fulfill his duties in a manner highly creditable both to himself and the public in general.

But where his life was the loveliest, where life is always most worthwhile, was his home life. It was there that he lived the life that was pure and above reproach. It was there that during his long days of suffering he was always in a good humor and was ever lovely to his wife and children to whom he was so devoted.

In the passing of John C. Wood, indeed a good man has been called to bid earthly friends his last farewell and to enter his Heavenly home where a reward awaits all who live a life that is worth the living.

To the bereaved aged father and mother, to the devoted and loving wife, to the children who were ever ready and willing to do what they could to help their father during his long days of suffering, and to his kind and loving brothers we join their many friends and relatives in extending our deepest sympathy.

SKETCH OF MR. WOOD'S LIFE.

John C. Wood was born in Fleming county, Kentucky, December 31, 1860, and was in his 51st year. When quite a child he moved here with his parents and obtained a common school education. When quite young he went to work in a printing office in Mt. Sterling. At the age of 19 years he embarked in the publishing business for himself, launching the Republican, the first Republican newspaper ever established in this district, but the hard fight caused him to suspend publication after a year's labor.

Mr. Wood then became local editor of the old Sentinel, continuing with that paper until 1884, when he launched the Mt. Sterling Gazette, another Republican organ, and was part owner at the time of his death.

When a young man Mr. Wood began to take an active part in politics and upon the resignation of his father, A. T. Wood, as United States Commissioner, was appointed to succeed him. In the congressional campaign in which J. H. Wilson, now deceased, was elected to Congress, Mr. Wood took an active part, the Democrats conceding that his paper won the victory, and Congressman Wilson endorsed him for postmaster at Mt. Sterling. President Harrison giving him the appointment.

After serving as Postmaster, Mr. Wood again took charge of his paper, and later was candidate for Railroad Commissioner from the Third District, being nominated at Richmond after a hard fight and being chosen for a second term. He was persuaded to try for a third nomination, but was defeated after a hard fight by A. T. Siler.

Mr. Wood had served several terms on the School Board in Mt. Sterling, and for twenty years was county chairman of the Republican Committee. He was twice asked to take part in the direction of state campaigns at Louisville for his party, and had a large part in carrying the State for the Republican ticket on two occasions, in 1908 suffering a breakdown while at work in the Willson campaign which caused his death.

When in his prime Mr. Wood was a power in Republican politics in the State and especially in Eastern Kentucky, and attended all conventions from the time he was a voter until unable by illness to do so.

Mr. Wood was a member of no church, but had always been a firm believer in Christ and his teachings. In 1883 he was married to Miss Hattie Parker, of Frankfort, who besides his aged parents, Major and Mrs. Wood, survives with four sons: Parker Wood, of Louisville; Forrest Wood, of Oklahoma, Stanley, editor of our esteemed contemporary, the Mt. Sterling Gazette, and Irwin Wood, both of this city, and three daughters, Misses Mary, Ollie and Katherine Wood. He is also survived by two brothers, James H. Wood and Hoffman Wood, and one sister, Mrs. G. N. Cox, all of this county.

Unexpected Guests

The farmer and his wife were about to sit down to a cold supper when they saw some old friends driving towards the house.

The good wife was equal to the occasion—thanks to her New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

She had it lit in a moment, and her guests hardly were seated on the porch before a hearty hot meal was ready for the table—sausages and eggs and long rashers of streaky bacon, and rolls just crisped in the oven and fresh coffee—and the hostess herself as cool and neat as if she had not been near the kitchen.

She never could have managed it with an old-fashioned range. The New Perfection is the quickest, most convenient and best cooker on the market.

more general use of the advertising columns of the newspapers. The candidates are no longer content with the stereotyped announcement which for so many years has been a feature of political contests. They are purchasing publicity as a means of exploiting their views and proclaiming their fitness for the positions they seek. And in doing so they are adopting the best possible method of attracting the attention of the voting masses.

Placing the blame.

A girl nine years old at Fremont, Ger. any, swallowed a pin and thus killed herself. For two weeks no one would think of any reason why she would have done it, and then some one said that it was because she had attended a moving picture show and the proprietor of the place was arrested and fined $25. If the girl had not had swallowed a pin and died they would probably have sent the mayor of the city to jail.

CHEROKEE KENNESAW CREOLE ETOWAH GEORGIA MARBLE

Since the very earliest ages of history, marble everywhere has been recognized as pre-eminent in the construction of the world's greatest monuments and buildings, and Georgia Marble contains those durable qualities for which the stone from the ancient quarries was so justly famous. In beauty Georgia Marble stands without an equal. It matches up perfectly, and when lettered shows a striking contrast that renders the inscription readable from a distance. The crystalline formation is so closely interlocked as to prevent the slightest degree of absorption or decomposition, rendering it proof against climatic conditions, and it remains beautiful and unbroken always.

An Advertising Campaign.

The political campaign in Kentucky this year has been distinctively an advertising campaign. In no previous contest of the kind have the candidates so generally resorted to the newspapers to put their claims before the people. The advertising columns of papers throughout the length and breadth of the State have been liberally patronized.

This is as it should be. In times past many of the Kentucky newspapers have been very generous in donating space to politics and politicians. There is no reason why any candidate should expect any large amount of free advertising. It costs money to print newspapers and the publisher's space is his stock in trade.

In the beginning of the present campaign a number of the papers wisely adopted a rule that no political matter devoted exclusively to boosting the candidacy of any particular aspirant would be published except when paid for at regular advertising rates. Subsequently others fell into line and the result has been to the financial benefit of the papers. Doubtless the space purchased has been valuable to the candidates. Many of them thereby have made themselves known in localities where otherwise it would have been impossible. The canvassing of a State is a tremendous undertaking. No candidate, in the time allotted for a canvass, may hope to visit every county. By judicious use of newspaper publicity, however, he may carry his message not only to every county, but to every voting district and to every precinct. Future campaigns undoubtedly will be characterized by a still

SHOULD WE HAVE TWO TELEPHONE SYSTEMS?

At the last meeting of our City Council the East Tennessee Telephone Company, (a subsidiary branch of the Cumberland Telephone Company), which now has two long distance stations here, presented a telephone franchise and asked the Council to offer the same for sale.

At the outset we want to say we are not interested as directors, stockholders or otherwise in the Old Kentucky Telephone & Telegraph Company, which now operates a telephone system in our City and are not undertaking to champion its cause in any sense. What we shall say is as citizens of Mt. Sterling, having the best interest of its inhabitants at heart and not as the representatives of any telephone company, or any person connected with any such companies.

Our citizens need the best local and long distance service obtainable, but two telephone systems compel everybody who needs a telephone, to have both 'phones, which is quite a nuisance, to say nothing of a great expense. The franchise presented authorizes an increase in the rates now charged by the Old Kentucky, as on business houses within one and a half miles of the Court House, the rate stated is $2.75 per month and on residences $1.65. When one thousand 'phones are secured the rate is to be increased to $3.00 per month on business houses and $2.00 for residences, within that radius.

The local company was required to pay $1,000.00 for its franchise, while the franchise proposed fixes no price at which it shall sell. This feature and the idea of increasing the rate are manifestly unfair to the local company.

The City has just gotten rid of many ugly poles from our streets and are now extensively improving them. To install another plant would necessitate the erection of new poles by the dozen, thus disfiguring our City and making it more unsightly.

To get this long distance service one must now go to one of the hotels, where the stations are located and lose much valuable time in delay, which arrangement is of course very unsatisfactory. A number of local merchants badly need the long distance service the East Tennessee Telephone Company furnishes and we would be very glad to see them have it, but the whole community should not suffer by the maintenance of two systems to get it.

The franchise of the local company requires it to connect with any long distance company and the East Tennessee should arrange with it to furnish our people this service in that way. Its franchise further provides that if they cannot agree upon the terms, each company may select a man and those two choose a third and the three so selected shall have authority to equitably apportion the tolls between them and fix the terms and conditions upon which such connection shall be furnished. It will therefore be seen that the East Tennessee service can be had through the local exchange without the City being bothered with two systems, which, as before stated, is quite a nuisance and an unnecessary burden upon our people.

In our judgement the Council will best subserve the interests of our City by refusing to adopt the franchise offered, authorizing the installation of a second system and especially should no franchise be sold for a trifle, which authorizes an increase in the rate now being paid to the local company, which is already high enough.

H. G. ENOCH.

This is essentially a young man's age. The cashiers of our four banks, our postmaster, nearly all of our City and County Officials and many of our most prominent business men are young men. The old plan of requiring a man to outlive his usefulness before putting him in places of honor and trust, no longer exists, as is evidenced by the selection of Mr. H. G. Enoch to fill the vacancy in the City Council from the Second Ward, occasioned by the untimely death of the late M. S. Kelley.

Being a business man of industry, sagacity and high personal integrity, we are sure he will acquit himself to the entire satisfaction of the people of our City and the selection could not have been improved upon.

We have always claimed Montgomery County led the balance of Kentucky in politics at least, if not in other respects. In the recent State Primary it is a significant fact that every candidate who carried Montgomery County also carried the State.

Death of Mr. Peniston.

Mr. William Walter Peniston, formerly a resident of this county, died of cardiac asthma at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Peniston Moffett, at Sharpsburg, Ky., Monday noon, and the remains were brought here and interred Wednesday morning, in Grove Hill cemetery, after brief services at the grave by the Rev. Mr. Willett.

Mr. Peniston is survived by his sister and one brother, Mr. Thomas Peniston, of Fort Worth, Texas.

The past thirty years of Mr. Peniston's life were spent in literary and encyclopedic work in Philadelphia and Baltimore. Endowed with a clear analytical mind and gifted with a deep appreciation for literature, music and art, he was very successful in his chosen field. He was unmarried and about fifty-seven years of age. Besides his immediate relatives Mr. Peniston leaves a large kinship in this county, where he spent the greater part of his early life.—Shelby Record.

HE WAS CHICKEN'S "FATHER"

Little Boy Was Determined to Protect His Pet, Even if It Was a Great Nuisance.

I want to give you a story (true) about a youngster in my neighborhood, which I consider good. It is as follows: Out of a brood of chickens was one poor little thing, with but a few pin feathers. The six-year-old boy of the family made a pet of it. It would follow him all over the house, and all the sound that ever came from it was "Peep, peep." It incidentally got into everyone's way, the members of the family falling and stumbling over it, and many a stifled oath was uttered by them. On this particular day the mother of the family fell over the chicken, and made the remark: "Wish some one would do something to that chicken." The cook, who was standing near with butcher knife in hand, said: "I'll fix that chicken, mum!" picked it up by the neck and started for the kitchen door. The small boy appeared upon the scene at this time and overheard the remark, and this was his reply: "Well, I guess not! Guess I've got something to say about that chicken! I want you to understand I'm the father of that chicken."

WITHOUT THE DOCTOR'S AID

Aunt Jane "Just Died by Herself," Before the Man of Medicine Had Arrived.

Like many of the older set of southern darkies when the Civil war closed, Uncle Ephraim and his wife, Aunt Jane, as they were familiarly known, chose to remain with their former mistress rather than to try their fortunes elsewhere. Because of this fact Mrs. Smith was peculiarly attached to her former slaves and saw to it that they stood in need of none of the ordinary comforts of life. Sickless, however, had laid hold on Aunt Jane, and for days Ephraim had been kept away from the "Big House." Early one morning, upon opening the rear door of her home, Mrs. Smith saw Ephraim approaching. Knowing that Aunt Jane had been sick, she said: "Ephraim, how is Jane?" "W'y, she's dead," Ephraim, you don't say so; is she dead?" "Yes, yes'm; she's dead." "When did she die, Ephraim?" "She died about midnight last night." "Well, well, well—did the doctor get there before she died?" "No, m'm, she jes' died by herself."—National Monthly.

WOMAN'S LAUGH.

A woman has no natural grace more bewitching than a sweet laugh. It is like the sound of lutes on the water; it leaps from her heart in a clear, sparkling rill, and the heart that hears it feels as if bathed in the cool, exhilarating spring. How much we owe to that sweet laugh! It turns the prose of our life into poetry; it flings showers of sunshine over the darkest wood in which we are traveling; it touches with light our sleep, which is no more the verge of death, but gilded with dreams that are the shadow of immortality.

COULDN'T UNDERSTAND.

"Can't make it out nohow," writes Uncle Kitchel Pixley in the Shreveport (La.) Times. "Ye see, it was this way: Me and old Seth Beardsley was runnin' for constable and after I hears Colonel Roosevelt sailin' into crooks, down at the depot that time, I begins sailin' into Seth. Course Seth hadn't no crooked record—hasn't had no record at all, except for chawing plug for forty years; but I paints him crooked 'n Sam Hill. Then our township gives him 139 more votes than it gives me. Now, what's eatin' me is, what's the answer?"

ADVISES AGAINST RATS.

Dr. Everett Brownell of New York says that women will be bald if they do not quit wearing rats. The bent generated by the weight, he says, destroys the cushion of fat under the scalp and kills the roots. Women who are in the house all day are more likely to suffer than those who are out in the fresh air a great deal of the time.

RANGE OF POSSIBILITIES.

"I have been told," said the confident performer, "that I make my violin sound like the human voice." "Yes," replied the candid friend; "but there are so many kinds of human voices."

His Last Request.

Two men were to be hanged for horsestealing. The place selected was the middle of a trestle bridge spanning a river. The rope was not securely tied on the first victim to be hanged, and the knot slipped; the man fell into the river and immediately swam for the shore. As they were adjusting the rope on the second, he remarked: "Say, will ye be sure and tie that good and tight, cause I can't swim."

When Oatmeal Was Canned.

When the cellar of a grocery store at Franklin, N. H., was being cleaned out recently a can of cooked oatmeal was found. The can had probably been in the cellar for 20 years, but the contents were found to be in perfect condition. Oatmeal was canned like corn, peas and other vegetables some years ago, before the advent of the present day partially cooked dry cereals.

A Good Idea.

In most of the public schools of France boys are taught how to restore to life a person who has seemingly been drowned; how to carry a boy who has broken bones; what to do for a bad nosebleed; how to apply a tourniquet; what to do in case poison is taken by mistake, and a score of other useful things. Such things should be taught in the public schools at home everywhere.

College Education Helpful.

"Do you believe in a college education?" "Believe in it? What do you mean?" "Do you think it is likely to help a man?" "Certainly. If my son Bill had never gone to college it isn't likely that he would ever have been noticed by any of the managers of the big league clubs."

NEVER LOST ITS NOVELTY

Why Thomas Bailey Aldrich So Highly Valued His Letter From Professor S. E. Morse.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale used to tell of an amusing letter once sent by Thomas Bailey Aldrich to Prof. E. S. Morse, whose handwriting was very illegible, says Human Life. According to Doctor Hale, Mr. Aldrich wrote as follows:

"My Dear Morse: It was very pleasing to get your recent letter. Perhaps I should have been more pleased had I been able to decipher the same. I have not been able to master any of it beyond the date, which I knew, and the signature, which I guessed at. There is a singular and perpetual charm in a letter of yours; it never grows old, it never loses its novelty. One can say to one's self every morning: 'Here's that letter of Morse's. I haven't read it yet. I think I'll take another shy at it today, and maybe I shall, in the course of a few months, be able to make out what it means by those 's' that look like w's and those 't's' that have no eyebrows. Other letters are read and thrown away, but yours are kept forever—unread. One of them will last a reasonable man a lifetime. Admiringly yours,
"T. B. ALDRICH."

IT HAS COME TO THIS.

"What is an affinity, mother?"
"Hush, dear. Something not in the least proper."

ANCIENT CHURCH CUSTOMS.

In the age of witchcraft and superstition it was believed that the fairies built the old kirk in Glasgow and that they had a right to them; so said Mr. W. B. Paterson, lecturing before the Old Glasgow club. The accommodation afforded the parishioners was very different from the present luxurious age. There were no pews in Scottish kirk before the reign of Charles I. The people had to bring their stools with them and those that did not do this simply sat down on the floor. For the evening service parishioners likewise brought candlesticks and candles. On the question of the separation of the sexes Mr. Paterson mentioned the interesting fact that there still existed a church in the city where this rule was observed.—London Globe.

CONVENIENT OBUSINESS.

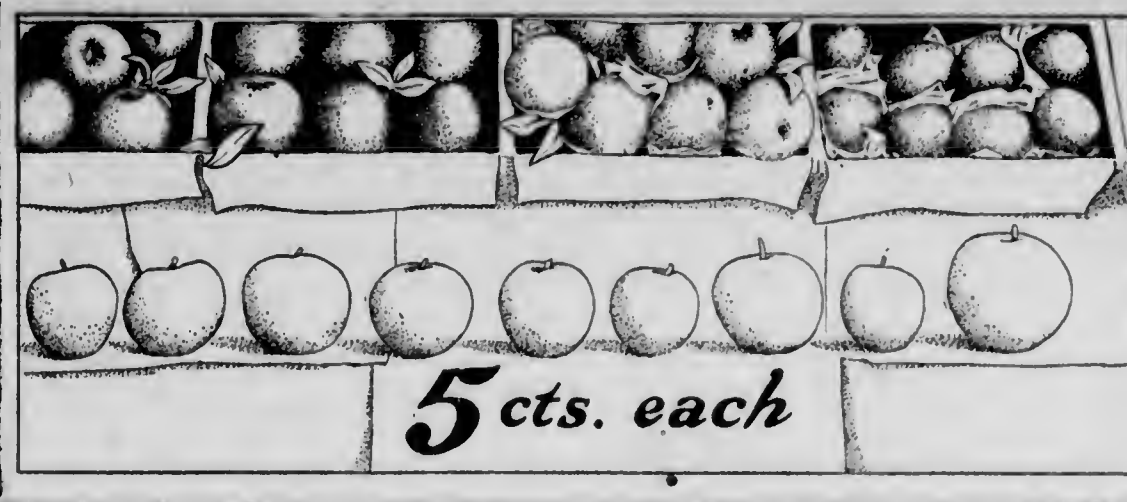

A little Boston boy who has had a German nurse and a German governess since the time he could first toddle, and who speaks German as fluently as he does English, misbehaved himself the other day and was soundly scolded by his grandfather, who speaks no language but that of Boston. When, finally, there was a cause in the grandparental eloquence he boy looked up calmly and said: "Grandpa, I have not been able to understand you. You will have to speak to me in German."

FAITHFUL POSTAL WORKERS.

The government has no employees more faithful and none upon whose personal honesty more depends than the thousands of postmasters and postal clerks in our nearly 60,000 post offices. When one thinks of the countless letters in flimsy envelopes dropped into mail boxes and post offices, with no protection, except a two-cent stamp and a thin piece of paper, against the violation of secrets the exposure of which might ruin a business, one realizes how much depends on the personal integrity of those who handle the mails.

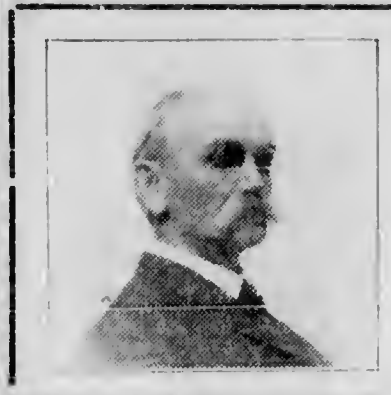

KNOW BETTER.

"Why do you waste your time hanging in the streets?" demanded the missionary-minded gentleman of the hobo. "Don't you know time is money?"
"Don't you believe it, boss," came the answer. "I've done time enough to be a millionaire."

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If you saw a row of apples, everyone differing in size, ripeness and color, and all for sale at the same price, wouldn't you choose the best? Why not do the same thing when you buy fire insurance? The cost of insurance is substantially the same in all agencies, but what you get for your money varies as much as the apples in the row.

Choose then HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY. For Nearly Three Quarters of a Century it has paid every loss, big and little. It's reputation is unexcelled. It is the best fire insurance apple of them all, and its policies cost no more than those in agencies of inferior quality. Why not use the same judgment in buying insurance that you would in such a trivial matter as buying fruit at a fruit stand?

RELIGIOUS

The Rev. I. C. Hunt will preach at Springfield the third Sunday in July in the morning and at Owingsville at night.

Well, of course, why should such a meeting not do good. Good seats, lights and singing in the open air these days will help some. The minister, E. H. Koch, has Evangelist Wm. Ross Lloyd assisting in what promises to be Bethel's great meeting. The Christian church at Bethel has done well to get out of doors, and we are not surprised to hear that they are having the largest audiences they have ever had at this stage of the meeting. Mr. Lloyd preaches most kindly and doesn't fight the other churches.

Webster's Most Profitable Book.

"Noah Webster," says the book of copyrights, "probably got more for his spelling book than was ever paid for any other book in the United States. We are unable to state the entire sum that was paid him for the copyright of that little book, but think it must have been more than $50,000. His large dictionary, a work on which he spent the greatest part of his life, did not yield him a tenth part of the profits of his spelling book."

KENTUCKY'S NEXT GOVERNOR

A Historic Review of Old Men in Public Life and Public Service—Patterson on McCreary.

The opinion is sometimes expressed that men who have occupied prominent places in affairs and have done great things are incapable of doing effective service after they have passed the traditional three-score years and ten. That this is a fallacy a few instances, and they might be multiplied manifold, will show.

Augustus was more capable of empire at 76 than when he defeated Antony at Actium forty years before. Gladstone conducted with brilliant success his most strenuous political campaign when over 80. William I. and Von Moltke won the victories of Sedan and Gravelotte and laid France prostrate in the dust when over 70. Queen Victoria laid down the burden of empire when in the full maturity of her powers when over 80; and the veteran Emperor of Austria holds the reins still with a steady hand, though already four-score. Marshal Raderzky annihilated the army of Charles Albert on the fatal field of Novara when 82 years of age; and Voltaire was crowned amid thunders of applause in the Theater Francaise, when his "Irene" was placed upon the stage at 78. Humboldt completed his immortal Cosmos at 90. Chief Justice John Marshall was in the full vigor of his powers at 80, and Chief Justice Roger V. Taney at 87. Justice John M. Harlan, one of the most distinguished of living Kentuckians, wrote recently an opinion dissenting from the deliverance of the Supreme Court on the Standard Oil decision, characterized by a wealth of legal learning, a powerful grasp of detail and a soundness of logical process unsurpassed by any of his contemporaries or any of his predecessors, and this at the age of 78. Joe Jefferson never appeared with more dramatic power than in "Rip Van Winkle" at 75; Tennyson wrote "Crossing the Bar" when past 80. LaPlace completed his "Traite de la Mecanique Celeste" at 76, a work which takes front rank in intellectual vigor, in scope and profundity with the Principia of Sir Isaac Newton and the Quaternions of Sir William Rowan Hamilton. Henry Clay brought forward and carried when 73 years old, the greatest political measure of his life, the famous compromise act of 1850. Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun were still full of fire of former years when they died, the former at 70 and the latter at 68 years of age. Gregory VII., whose long contest with the German Emperor reached its climax in the humiliation of Henry IV. at Canossa, was nearing 70 when he brought his antagonist to his knees; and Paul III., one of the most imperious of the pontiffs, did not hesitate, when nearing 70, to fulminate his bull of excommunication against Henry VIII. John Wesley, when nearing 90, was still the most indefatigable and eloquent preacher in England. Michael Angelo produced one of his famous masterpieces, "The Last Judgment," when three-score years and ten; and Titian at about the same age completed his famous painting of "The Battle of Lepanto."

And in these latter years, Justin S. Morrill, of Vermont, and William B. Allison, of Iowa, added luster and dignity to the Senate when past 80. Within a few months Dr. James B. Angell, when past 80, retired from the presidency of the famous University of Michigan, after a service of nearly forty years, and Matthew H. Buckham, president of the University of Vermont, was still vigorous and active at the time of his death, though nearing 80. Instances of great mental vigor at an advanced age might be multiplied by dozens and by Women!

If weak, you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is made from gentle herbs, acts in a natural manner, and has no bad results, as some of the strong drugs sometimes used. As a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women, Cardui has been a popular success for over 50 years.

E 57
Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Lula Walden, of Gramling, S. C., followed this advice. Read her letter: "I was so weak, when I first began to take Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Now, I can do all the general housework, for a family of 9." Try Cardui for your troubles. It may be the very remedy you need.

scores, but these will suffice to show that many men are capable of great feats of mental power between 70 and 90 years of age. While not a politician, I am greatly interested in the good government of the State. In addressing this letter to you and through you to the people of Kentucky, I do not wish to be understood as disparaging the claims or the abilities of any candidate for the office of Governor. I wish only to record my estimate of the one whom I prefer.

Few men have had experience so wide and so varied in the management of public affairs as James B. McCreary. He has been before the public for more than forty years of continuous service in the field, in the halls of legislation and in executive duties. He made an excellent record as a gallant soldier and capable officer. During the trying ordeal of the Civil War he evaded no duty and quailed before no danger. After his return to private life he represented his constituency in three successive national Democratic conventions. He represented his county in three successive sessions of the State Legislature, during the last of which he was Speaker of the House. He represented his district in Congress for six successive terms, namely, 1885 to 1897, and represented Kentucky in the Senate of the United States from 1903 to 1909. From 1875 to 1879 he was Governor of this Commonwealth. While a member of Congress he was appointed one of the Commissioners of the United States to the International Monetary Congress at Brussels, where he maintained with dignity and with credit to the reputation of his country.

From the foregoing it will be seen that his whole life has been spent in the public service. His experience has been wide and varied in the field, in the halls of legislation, State and National, in administrative and executive duties, and in dealing with some of the most difficult problems which confront the political economist in national and international finance. No mere tyro can bring to the discharge of public duties one tithe of the capacity for intelligent work in legislative and executive duties. His collegiate and legal education, well fitted him for these manifold and varied activities. In all of these relations he has borne himself with conspicuous ability, fidelity, dignity and courtesy. As Speaker of the House his rulings were prompt and impartial. As Governor his acts were all conceived and executed in the interest of the whole people of the Commonwealth. Partisanship was subordinated to the public good. In his legislative career in Congress, extending over a period of eighteen years, every measure supported and every vote cast was upon national and not sectional lines. An able, upright, experienced, clean, good man, no breath of suspicion, so far as I know, has ever attached to any of his acts, either public or private.

If elected Governor of Kentucky, he will bring to the discharge of his duties, a ripe experience extending over forty years, an experience of incalculable value in troublous times, when the hand of a safe, conservative man is needed at the helm. The State needs just now a policy of conciliation, not a policy of adventure, the policy of a statesman, not of expediency or opportunism.

I think I might well close by a verse from the forty-fourth chapter of the book of Ecclesiasticks: "Let us now praise famous men and our fathers who begot us." Respectfully,

JAMES K. PATTERSON,
President Emeritus, State University of Kentucky.

Quick Action.

Emmett Haynes, a farmer of Daviess county, who raised something like 4,000 bushels of wheat this year, has made a record that will, no doubt, stand for many years. He cut his wheat at 9 a. m., threshed it 11 a. m., delivered it to the mill at 3 p. m., it was ground to flour at 5 p. m., and Haynes ate biscuits at 6 p. m. made of the wheat cut at 9 a. m. This was the first delivery of the year and is said to have been the earliest delivery made in that section for years.

Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store. 1m is Growing Better.

The Shelby Record would not change things if it had the power. It says: "We believe the world is a good place and is growing better. This world began with a garden and is going to end with a garden. It's a pleasant place to live and if we had been consulted as to which of the stars we should chose for a habitation we could not have done better than to select this. We have always been glad we got aboard this planet. It just suits us. To our mind the very best color in the universe for the sky is blue; the very best shade for grass is green; and the very best for water is a crystalline flash. The mountains are just high enough for me, the valleys are just low enough, the rivers just swift enough. The human face is most wonderfully adapted for its use with sunshine in its smile and tempest in its frown; with two eyes, one more than is necessary, so that if one is put out we still may see the beautiful things God has placed around us; with one nose most admirably arranged to take in the sweet perfumes of earth."

Some Health Proverbs.

Here are some health proverbs which should be pasted in the hat:
"The man who says he would rather have smallpox than be vaccinated never had the smallpox."
"An open window is better than an open grave."
"Warm rooms have killed more people than ever froze to death."
"If you let the child have the measles when he is young you may save a doctor's bill later on, but you may have to pay the undertaker now."
"A good iron pump costs less than a case of typhoid."

"If your milkman brings you warm milk make it hot for him."
"Wire screens in the windows may keep craps from the door."
"A fly in the milk often means a member of the family in the grave."
"If some people were as much afraid of flies as they are of bad water there would be less typhoid."
"When you see a child looking like an angel do not kiss it; you might make a real angel out of it."
"Scarlatina may not sound so dangerous as scarlet fever, but ask the undertaker."

Stack of Gold.

Stacked in one of the corners of the steel ribbed vaults of the United States Treasury in Washington $300,000 in gold coin is going begging. The government cannot give it away, yet none of the rightful owners can be induced to take it. It represents unclaimed interest on the public debts. Somewhere in nooks and crannies out-of-the-way places are the government's interest checks for the money which never have been cashed. Some of them never will be presented, others may be brought around in time, and some are being held by cautious investors. One citizen has more than $60,000 waiting for him and holds the checks for it. He was recently invited to cash in and made a trip to Washington to tell Treasury officials the checks were his property; he would cash them when he pleased, or burn them up if he wished. If he does the latter his money will be held in the vaults until Congress, perhaps, might dispose of it. The Treasury can do nothing but keep it. The contractor who laid the first pavement upon Pennsylvania avenue from the Capitol to the White House has $21,000 waiting for him; it has been there many years, but the Treasury has never been able to find the right payee, as the contractor failed and his affairs became involved in litigation which never has been settled. The amounts of this seemingly ownerless fund ranges from thousands down to a few cents.

Scandinavian Courtship.

It was considered beneath the dignity of a Scandinavian warrior to court his bride by gallantry and submission; he always waited until she had bestowed her affections on another and was in her way to the marriage ceremony, then collecting his faithful followers they fell upon the wedding party and carried away the bride. It was much in favor of this practice that marriages were always celebrated at night.

Are These Your Selections?

According to a committee chosen by the Providence Evening News, the ten most beautiful words in the English language are melody, hope, love, home, sublime, joy, peace, gentle, life, friendship. The Evening News got up a contest among its readers, and the list given was unanimously approved by the judges. A set of Mark Twain's works was the first prize.

Educational Signs.

The municipal council of Paris aims to teach history by means of street names. Two of the signs already in place read "Rue Rivoli—French victory, 1797." "Avenue Victor Hugo—French poet and novelist, 1802-1885."

A critic is a man who on all occasions is more attentive to what is wanted than what is present.—Addison.

SECRET OF THE NEAT GIRL

It is Nothing More Nor Less Than Taking Care of Her Clothes.

We all have among our acquaintances the girl who, without being in the least good looking, always manages to look neat and well dressed. Perhaps she has only a small dress allowance, and yet whenever you happen to meet her she looks smart and attractive, while other girls, with twice the money at their command, too often look shabby and dowdy.

What is the neat girl's secret? Nothing more nor less than taking care of her clothes; she has a place for everything and everything is kept in its place; her ribbons, gloves, handkerchiefs, etc., are not all huddled together in one drawer, neither do they lie about on the tables and chairs until they are wanted. Every article of apparel is put away with the most scrupulous care, first being dusted, shaken or mended, as the case may be.

There is a great difference, too, in the way in which girls put on their clothes; and very often a girl dressed in a shirtwaist and plain skirt will look twice as neat as the one clad in an expensive gown, the reason being simply and solely this: The one has put her dress on anyhow, the other has taken care that all shall be neat and fresh.

It is the duty of all parents to see that their children are taught from their babyhood to take proper care of their wearing apparel; for the child who lets clothes drop off her and lie in a heap on the floor invariably grows into the careless, untidy woman, with whom we are so familiar.

BESETTING SIN OF WOMAN

Extravagance Perhaps the Most Profitable Cause of Subterfuge and Embarrassment.

Of all the sins which beset woman today in every section of society and every degree and every class, the sin of extravagance is perhaps the most prolific of subterfuges and embarrassment.

Economy is every day becoming more of an irksome task than the exercise of a virtue which leads ultimately to comfort and peace of mind.

These opinions sound very much like copybook platitudes, but their primitive familiarity does not make them any the less true.

In the old days an extravagant woman became notorious. She was one of a few, and she was generally to be found among those who had been suddenly pitchedforked into heights of eminence from a comparatively low position.

The wardrobe excesses of Josephine form appalling reading, with their hundreds of sets of things, and evidence more than anything the vulgarity of the parvenu.

Maria Theresa, on the other hand, the second wife of Napoleon, conducted her expenditures on moderate lines, although springing from one of the most ancient courts of Europe.

Extravagance is not necessarily an appendage of rank. It is, as a rule, the outward and visible sign of the man who has made riches quickly and who desires that his women folk should blazon it forth to the world by running through the whole gamut of modern pleasures in the most costly possible way.

MAN FROM WEST TOUCHED!

Has Experience on Broadway With Panhandler, Old to Game and Half Drunk.

A broad-shouldered westerner was walking down Broadway with a friend. You could tell the man was from the far west even if he did not wear the big-brimmed hat that westerners, as a rule, affect. A panhandler, old to the game and half drunk, spotted him.

"Gimme a dime, mister; gimme a dime," he pleaded hoarsely.

The westerner put his hand in his pocket and then looked at the beggar. The panhandler kept up his patter and clutched the westerner so that the stranger would not get away. The westerner got a whiff of the panhandler's breath and then shook the beggar off. "Go 'way," he commanded. "Go 'way." The westerner looked so fierce that the panhandler slunk away.

Then the westerner stopped.

"I can't go on, Russell," he said. "That fellow is drunk, but he may be hungry." The westerner turned and went back to where the panhandler was stationed. All the change he had in his pocket, and it was considerable, he gave to the beggar. Then he rejoined his companion.

The westerner was Haywood, the "Gentleman" man, who was tried for the murder of Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

FATHER OF 36 CHILDREN.

Still living, at the advanced age of eight-eight years, the father of 36 children and a husband five times, Charles Joseph Jones, former seaman, and at present a match salesman, who lives in Baltimore, possesses an extraordinary history. Mr. Jones claims descent from the marriage of a real Indian chief and an octocon.

Known far and wide in the vicinity of his residence, the venerable patriarch is a character of much general interest to his neighbors. Of his 36 children 14 sons served in the southern army during the civil war. He is the father of both twins and triplets.

LETTERS TO CORNWALLIS.

Robert McSwain of David county, near Mocksville, while riding horseback recently near Setzer's Hill, found a sealed bottle containing two letters dated January 13, 1781.

One of the letters was to Lord Cornwallis, who was then in command of the British forces, and the other to another British dignitary. Robert sent the letters to a brother in Salisbury, who in turn forwarded them to Washington. They were evidently lost or hidden by a British courier.—Winston-Salem correspondence Washington Post.

FACING DEATH.

Why should we consent even to the semblance of lack of courage in our pagan trappings of woe at every death? We may well grieve that we are left behind; that a comrade whose face and voice and interpretation of life make half our joy should pass beyond our grasp. But if we believe that death is going to justify itself there is no right or reason in emphasizing grief. We were made to go onward, writes Louise Collier Wilcox, in Harper's Bazar. There is no permanent stoppage in the great procession passing from one eternity to another. And when we are forced to wave "farewell" to one who goes beyond our sight, let it be courageously and with a solemn gladness. "There is nothing to be commiserated," writes the good gray poet to one about to die "I do not commiserate—I congratulate you."

You get a ticket with every dollar spent with us, whether in cash or in payment of your account. The reputation of this buggy is already established and everyone knows it is just as represented—first-class in every particular. It is now on display at our store.

Our Reason

The summer is the dull season in hardware and machinery. We cannot have a Cut Price Sale. We can give something away. Now in order to stimulate trade and help collections, we are making this special offer.

REMEMBER

With every Cash Purchase or payment on account of $1.00 or more, you get a chance for every dollar so spent or paid.

THE TIME

This Buggy will be given away July 27, 1911, at 3:30 p. m. at the Montgomery County Fair Grounds. Time is precious—do not delay but get busy at once.

Be Sure and come to the Fair on this date and bring your tickets as you may hold the lucky number. If the number drawn is not on the grounds we will continue to draw until some lucky person gets it. Equal chances to all.

The Big Closing Out Sale

OF

NEW QUALITY STORE

Commencing Saturday, July 15th, we will close out our entire Stock of Dry Goods at prices that will surprise you all.

SALE LASTS ONLY 21 DAYS

We have only been opened here since May, therefore, all of our goods are fresh.

No Shoddy Stock

In addition to selling all of our Dry Goods at greatly reduced prices we are compelled to sell our complete stock of CLOTHING, SHOES, and in fact, everything in wearing apparel for Man, Woman and Child. The reason we are forced to sell these goods at such extremely low figures is because we are new people here and over-bought ourselves, so that as now our creditors demand money, we are forced to turn our entire Stock loose at such prices as were never before heard of in Mt. Sterling. Remember the Sale starts and lasts for ONLY 21 DAYS, so be sure and come early and get the pick of the Stock. Every Article marked in plain figures.

Saturday, July 15th,

L. W. Howard and wife, of Howards Mill, visited here Saturday.

Mrs. G. B. Gay is improving slowly.

The little daughter of Richard Montjoy and wife, who has been very ill with flux, is doing nicely.

HIGH TOP.

Mr. Caywood and wife spent the day with J. W. Mee and wife Sunday.

J. W. Mee has bought a $140 buggy. Bill says he is going to ride awhile.

Hightop crossed bats with Side View Sunday, the Rounders winning the game by a score of 9 to 6.

Miss Pink Rickets, of Mt. Sterling, has taken up school at Hightop. She has about forty scholars.

Things are getting dry around Hightop. Some people think we had better begin to pray for rain. I think it best.

The Hightop boys will cross bats with the Levee team next Saturday on the latter's grounds. Everybody invited.

Jessie Davis, star player for the Rounders, was painfully hurt Sunday. While batting, a fowl ball glanced and hit him over the left eye, cutting a gash about two inches long. Dr. McClure was at hand and took five stitches. We feel sorry for Jessie, as he will have a black eye and his girl won't know him.

The Hightop Rounders ball team went to Owingsville to play ball. They had a fine time playing in the mud. The Hightop boys were on the bum. The feature of the game was the bare handed catch of Ishmael on third base who put out three men. The Hightop pitcher fanned three men and the Owingsville pitcher six men. The score was 13 to 9 in favor of the home team.

STOOPS.

Threshing is over in this part of the county.

A good sized crowd attended the ice cream supper at Somerset Saturday night.

H. C. Ficklin and wife went Sunday to visit the family of E. S. Congleton at Camargo.

T. C. McQuithy and wife, of Judy, visited the family of James Robbins Sunday.

Misses Clell McGlosson and Vella Cannon have gone to Ca-margo to visit the family of J. A. Trimble.

The body of Frank Groves, who was killed while coupling cars at Russell, Ky., July 3, was laid to rest Wednesday, July 5, in the cemetery at Concord, Fleming county. Frank was the son of Elijah A. Groves and wife, and was born in Fleming county 22 years ago. He was a worthy young man, being liked by all who knew him. He had been working for the C. & O. railroad company for about four years, making the company an efficient employee. His untimely taking off was a great shock to relatives and friends, and they will mourn him for many a day. Deceased was a member of Somerset Church and was also a member of Judy Council No. 54, Jr. O. U. A. M. Besides his parents he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Thos. Caudill, of Stanton, Ky., and Mrs. Harvey Hunt, of Platte county, Mo., and three brothers, Ollie, Charles and Elijah, Jr., at home, all of whom have the sympathy of this community in their hour of sadness.

Most True.
Not all the lip can speak is worth the silence of the heart.—J. Q. Adams.

The Way of the Laundry.
"I had my office coat washed last week," said Mr. Blincom, "and now it's an office jacket."

Hospitality.
Hospitality sometimes degenerates into profuseness, and ends in madness and folly.—Atterbury.

Improved Street Sprinkling.
A street sprinkling wagon from which the water issued in flat sheets, striking the ground without splashing, is a recent invention.

As a Rule.
Old Man Toner says: "Y' can always tell by th' beauty o' the architect's drawing what yer house ain't goin' to look like when it's finished."

Worth Remembering.
No woman ever yet applied for a divorce from a man who could meet worry and discouragement with a cheerful grin.

The Glory of God.
Linnaeus once said of the unfolding of a blossom: "I saw God in His glory passing near me and bowed my head in worship."

Life Worth Studying.
Every employer of labor might do worse than to spend a part of his day of rest in studying the life of Robert Owen, born May 14, 1771. He kept his workmen busy in dull times and made money by it.

Considerable Halibut.
A halibut caught recently in Thuree bay measured seven and one-half feet long and over three feet broad, and weighed over two hundred and fifty pounds. It was far the biggest fish caught off the north of Scotland for many years, and was sold for over $4.

Don't Believe It.
A French traveler who has been in the elephant country of Africa says that when an elephant has the toothache another elephant makes a loop in a vine and acts as dentist to pull the tooth. Don't you believe anything of the kind. He tells him to go over to the nearest railroad and let a freight train knock it out.
